Wetzel Languages is part of Wetzel Services Inc., a partner for companies whose business requires them to cross national, cultural, and linguistic boundaries.

With a background of teaching English as a second language (ESL) and a master's in education from Clemson University, Paul Wetzel founded Wetzel Services in 1996. Started as a language company, Wetzel Services soon expanded to support international companies not only with language classes and intercultural training but also with relocation and real estate needs for the expats they bring to the area.
